0.1 The website package, what it includes and " can you just "

Website Package and what it includes:

Website design and implementation service, price includes the following – included in all packages, regardless of page number, domain or hosting options.

Consultation for the design / construction of the website. 1st meeting is free, future meetings to be carried out over Internet / telephone conferencing. Other "site" visits can be priced upon request.

Full design of the webpage to meet client needs, including any amendments / changes that are required - fair limits apply - see 'can you just' below.

All content will be provided by the client and uploaded by Business Guys I.T.. This includes both text and media to be featured on the website. Images can be provided by Business Guys I.T. (please contact us for pricing)

Can you just

The " can you just" clause protects both us and the client and centres around the number of acceptable changes during development. There is not an unlimited amount of changes we can make to a website before launching, its just not possible.

Design

Once the client is happy with the design and colour scheme and this has been confirmed by phone or email the design / theme is then set and its locked in for the project. We do this as a large proportion of the workload goes into customising the design of the website and colour scheme, etc. If we were to constantly changing the design it would affect the rest of the website as there would be no time left to work on the website.

The design can of course be change and altered once agreed upon but this would incur additional charges.
